

Staying Connected With Your Teens

Open to parents of teens ages 12-17

Thursdays, Jan 12-Feb 9, 7:15-8:45pm @ the Kelley School Youth Center

$50/parent

Have you lost your teen to their friends, cell phones or the internet? Open to parents of teens ages 12-17. This is a science-based program that teaches parents of teens how to improve their family management practices and enhance family bonding. Parents and teens work together through responses and solutions to contemporary challenges. This program has proven to be effective! There was significant improvement in family discipline practices, supervision skills and bonding in participating families. The workshop is designed for parents to connect with each other, share their experiences and to form a network.
